DESCRIPTION

2015 Aston Martin DB9 GT Bond Edition - #060 of 150

A fitting tribute to the highly successful Aston Martin and James Bond 50-year relationship, the DB9 GT Bond Edition announced in 2015 attracted global attention, with ultimately only 38 examples being delivered in the UK, of the eventual 142 built. Finished in standard issue, Spectre Silver with Obsidian Black hides and Silver stitch, this example is complete with its entire complement of special issue equipment, which includes an 007 Limited Edition Omega Aqua Terra wrist watch with accessories, a bottle of Bollinger Champagne, display case and books, all contained within the originally issued 20" Globe-Trotter suit case. All remaining unused.

The DB9 GT introduced for 2015, was the last manifestation of the marques highly successful DB9 model, which in this GT specification was uprated to 540bhp, equipped with three stage adaptive damping and Carbon Ceramic brakes and a host of performance upgrades, which eclipsed the specification of the previous halo model, the DBS.

The exclusive car we are delighted to offer, first registered in October 2015, has covered just 998 miles from new, having been driven occasionally by its Aston Martin collector owner and housed in climate-controlled garaging, during its single previous ownership. Stored since 2018, this car has been serviced and recommissioned by our own workshops, ready to be enjoyed by its next owner.

Our workshop inspection confirms this car to be virtually 'as new'. This DB9 GT Bond Edition, is the first Aston Martin model, to be built with official 007 branding, to commemorate 50 years of James Bond 007 and Aston Martin's successful relationship. And of course, all tastefully equipped and specified, as befits our renowned secret agent.

A modern classic, extremely rare and built before the conclusion of production of Aston Martin’s most successful model ever the collectability and future appreciation of this wonderfully evocative, rare and desirable collectors’ car is undoubted.

Indeed, one could say it’s, Licenced to Thrill.

Available for viewing now at our Hertfordshire showrooms.
