DESCRIPTION

2010 Aston Martin DBS

We are delighted to offer this low mileage, highly specified DBS, finished in Quantum Silver over Obsidian Black semi-aniline (Q Exclusive) Balmoral leather hides with Cirrus Grey alcantara inserts, presented in superb condition throughout.

Replacing the first generation Vanquish as the flagship of the Aston Martin range in 2007, the DBS was, at the time, the most capable high performance GT model Aston Martin had produced, with the legendary V12 engine tuned to 510bhp, a stiffer chassis and for the first time on an Aston Martin road car, the DBS had vented carbon ceramic brakes. Another first for an Aston Martin was carbonfibre composite body panels used for the boot enclosure, boot lid, door opening surrounds, front wings and bonnet, together offering a 30kg saving over the aluminium equivalent.

A starring role for the DBS in 'Casino Royale', the 007 movie that provided Daniel Craig his debut as our favourite secret agent, along with the models 'harder edge' garnered support not just from existing Aston Martin owners but also car enthusiasts that had probably only before considered a GT car from Maranello or Stuttgart. Dealers worldwide enjoying full order books at launch. Interestingly, Aston Martin went on to build just over 2,500 DBS' (354 of those being finished in Quantum Silver) before production ceased in 2012.

Timeless exterior styling, interior design and quality, driving dynamics, an addictive V12 soundtrack and 'Bond car' status all combine to make today, the DBS, one of the most sought-after models amongst the Aston Martin enthusiast community and a future classic in the view of many a car journalist and internet forum!

Equipped with the close ratio Touchtronic II Automatic Gearbox, this attractive 2010.5 model year example, first registered in March 2010, was built in Quantum Silver over Obsidian Black hides, with attractive Cirrus Grey alcantara seat inserts, with Obsidian Black carpet and Cirrus Grey alcantara headlining.

In addition to the usual high specifications of the DBS model, which includes Bang & Olufsen Beosound audio system, notable optional extras on this example include; Piano Black fascia trim, Magnum Silver meshes, polished alloy door tread plates, an alcantara trimmed steering wheel and 10-Spoke Diamond Turned silver wheels.

Serviced by Aston Martin Main agents throughout its life and most recently, in 2025, by our own factory trained technicians, our pre-sale inspection confirms that this example is in excellent condition throughout, the paintwork presenting to a very high standard and the interior displaying only light evidence of any wear, as befits the low mileage of 14,500 from new.

Supplied to its next owner freshly serviced, to schedule, with 12 months MOT and 12 months warranty, along with a battery conditioner, AM umbrella and bespoke Leather-bound history file.

Available for viewing and demonstration now at our Hertfordshire showrooms.
